The Prisoner Correspondence Network (PCN) is a volunteer-run letter-writing program for people in New Zealand prisons. PCN aims to foster friendships and support networks between incarcerated and free people and to provide a space for personal expression. This is not a dating service.

If you are a person in prison who would like a pen pal, please fill out and send this form to the address in the top right corner.

1. What is your name and PRN?
2. What is your postal address in prison?
3. What is your email address in prison?
4. What is your birthday? (optional)
5. Please write an introduction for yourself. We will send this to our list of pen pal volunteers to consider. Just say whatever you feel comfortable sharing. If you have lots to say, keep going over the page!

Note: as we are not a dating service, any application that looks like a dating profile will not be forwarded to our penpals. Please do not state the preferred gender, age or ethnicity of your penpal.
